• Summary •

Ph.D. Psychologist, Certified International Trainer, and Strategic Consultant, translating the science of human potential into institutional advantage. I partner with organizations to build resilient, high-performing cultures by equipping all levels, from the C-suite to key personnel and frontline staff, with evidence-based frameworks. These systems are designed to fortify collective cognitive performance, mitigate the hidden costs of cognitive drain (such as chronic decision fatigue and anxiety), and sustainably enhance well-being across the entire organization. Through tailored consulting and training interventions, I deliver data-driven solutions that empower every individual to thrive, fortify institutional well-being, and translate into measurable gains in productivity, innovation, and sustainable growth.

• Core Competencies & Skills •

- Organizational Well-Being Programs: Design and delivery of workshops on stress management, burnout prevention, emotional intelligence, and mental health awareness.
- Mental Training & Performance Optimization: Customized training to strengthen cognitive skills, focus, resilience, and mental agility for leaders and teams.
- Mitigating Decision Fatigue: Specialized strategies and workshops to help organizations streamline processes and equip staff with tools to combat cognitive depletion, enhance judgment, and improve efficiency.
